

Federal enhanced premium tax credits

Congressional reauthorization is needed to keep people covered

Washington
Congressional District

6

Set to expire at the end of 2025, enhanced premium tax credits are critical to ensuring that Washingtonians in Congressional District 6 have health insurance coverage that is accessible and affordable.

19,860

Number of residents who receive enhanced premium tax credits.

$1,475

Average annual enhanced premium tax credits received.

$2,050

Average annual enhanced premium tax credits received by 55- to 64-year-old residents.

If Congress does not reauthorize enhanced premium tax credits before the end of 2025, many Washingtonians will forgo health insurance or purchase less expensive coverage with higher cost sharing.

70%

Percent net premiums will increase for residents who receive enhanced premium tax credits.

Meet Victoria (a composite of an average Exchange customer)

Living in Ocean Shores (Grays Harbor County), Victoria is a 45-year-old massage therapist working at a day spa.

Her employer does not offer health insurance benefits. She earns $45,180 per year and does not have any dependents.

$2,710

Total annual premiums Victoria pays for her insurance coverage with enhanced premium tax credits.

$4,450

Total annual premiums Victoria will pay without enhanced premium tax credits.

65%

Percent that Victoria's annual premiums will increase without enhanced premium tax credits.