What is Special Enrollment?

Special enrollment is a time outside of the open enrollment period when you can sign up for or change your current health coverage. You can get a special enrollment if you have certain life events, like having a baby, moving to a new area, or losing other health coverage.

Qualifying Life Event

- Moving to new area with different insurance options
- Losing health coverage
- Getting married
- Giving birth, adoption, or placement of a child
- Losing a dependent
- Becoming a U.S. citizen
- Getting out of jail
- Gaining tribal membership
- Gaining or losing health insurance premium tax credits (for current customers only)
- Other special circumstances

Not a Qualifying Life Event

- Canceling your health coverage
- Losing coverage for not paying your monthly bill
- Losing coverage that does not meet "minimum essential coverage"
- Finding out your doctor is not covered through your insurance plan

For these events, you will need to wait for the next open enrollment to sign up for coverage through Washington Healthplanfinder.

Some Washington residents can enroll year round:

- People who qualify for Washington Apple Health (Medicaid)
- American Indians/Alaska Natives
- People whose employer offers coverage through Washington Healthplanfinder Business

Your special enrollment period lasts 60 days from the date of the qualifying life event.
